COE PRESIDENT ELECTED TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE ASSOCIATION OF MANAGEMENT CONSULTING FIRMS

Rockville, MD (December 30, 2008) – COE President, Steve Goodrich has been elected to serve a two year term on the Board of Directors of the Association of Management Consulting Firms (AMCF). COE has been a long standing active member of the Association and for the past 3 years, Steve chaired the AMCF Public Affairs Committee, and has served on several program planning committees.

As the major association in the management consulting profession, AMCF serves a global membership of consulting firms. “It is an honor to be elected to serve as a member of the AMCF board. I hope to be able to contribute to our greater profession and the growth of AMCF”, says Steve Goodrich upon his election. “AMCF provides great opportunity to learn and grow, and stay abreast of current events impacting the profession”.

About AMCF

Founded in 1929, the Association of Management Consulting Firms is the leading global association of management consulting firms. The mission of AMCF is to promote an environment which fosters the success of management consulting firms and the value they deliver to their clients. AMCF member firms represent 72 percent of the global industry’s $283 billion in annual revenues, employing nearly half a million consulting professionals around the world.

AMCF meets its mission by providing opportunities for leaders of firms to gather to exchange solutions to common business challenges, to forge relationships and exchange understandings about professional standards of practice, around the world, and promoting excellence and integrity among members by adhering to a Code of Ethics.
